TERMS AND CONDITIONS

I, the undersigned, accept and agree that...

The consignor will receive 40% of the final selling price of all items, 50% for baby equipment. Wee Bee Growing Again is responsible for determining prices of items left by consignors. Wee Bee reserves the right to adjust the price of items as required. Wee Bee records in inventory only those items intended for sale, and our inventory records will at all times and in all circumstances be deemed to be final and correct. Wee Bee shall not be responsible for any claim for reimbursement, payment or damages in respect of any alleged discrepancy between Wee Bee inventory records and the consignor's records.

It is the responsibility of the consignor to keep in contact with Wee Bee regarding the sale and/or pick up of their items. Items not sold and/or not picked up after 2 months of receipt or prior to the end of our semi-annual sales, will become the property of Wee Bee (items are donated to a charity organization). Items left on consignment during our semi-annual summer and winter sales will be reduced by 50%. All remaining unsold items will be donated following the sale. January/February is end-of-season fall/winter and July/August is end-of-season spring/summer. End of season items are offered at 50% off. Final sales are at 70% off.

Wee Bee may require one day notice to prepare payment.

Wee Bee will not be responsible for any articles left for consignment sale.

Wee Bee will not share personal information with a third party without your prior consent.

Wee Bee will pay consignors for items sold for up to 12 months from the time the item is dropped off, and any amount which is not collected by the consignor within 12 months of the date of drop off of an item will become the absolute property of Wee Bee. Items not accepted for sale by Wee Bee will be returned where applicable and /or donated as per consignor's request.

Should a consignor wish said articles be returned, Wee Bee will contact the consignor and give them 2 week to pick up the item(s). If not picked up within this 2 week period, these items will be donated to a charity.
